Dear Mr. Editor,

I read the article last week which compared life in the 1990s with life today. The writer thought that family life then was better than it is now. I don't agree. I think life today is much better than it used to be.

Life is so much easier and more convenient now. Fifty or sixty years ago, they didn't have domestic robots, for example. My grandparents had to do all their own housework!

Today, we can order everything by using our cards, but in the last century people had to go to the shops themselves. What a waste of time! In my opinion, we're much better off now.

Yours faithfully,

John Andrews

The best subject this year was Geography, but we only had it twice a week. We're going to Wales in the middle of August, to see my granddad. Would you like to come with us? Mum says it's OK. Please write and tell me about your year at school. What was it like? Were your exams easy?

Living in a big city today is very different from living in a small town long ago. Today if you want to go to the city center, it takes you a long time by bus or by car. If you ride a motorbike, you breathe all the exhaust fumes and feel sick. Howevex, if you become ill, there are hospitals close by. Also if you like music and dancing, the discos and pubs offer a wide variety.

Long ago life was different. If people traveled, they used horses and carts. If they went a long distance, the journey took days, not hours. If they were ill, they didn't go to the hospital, there were none. If there is a wedding or holiday, they sang and danced.

Just a few years ago, this place was called Dumptown. The people living here didn't think much about where waste went when they threw it out. Things that could be reused or recycled were thrown in the trash , because nobody believed recycling made a difference. And, eventually, that became a very big problem.
The garbage heap grew and began to smell. Sometimes it caught fire, and making it hard for everyone to breathe. Dumptowners knew they had to fix it.
They learned to reduce the amount of waste they threw away. For example, they learned to reuse things—like washing out empty jars in - stead of throwing them away. And, they learned to recycle. They set up bins around town to collect glass, paper, and other things, then made into new products.

Hi! I'm Dean. I'm from England. My favorite time of the year is Christmas, which is on 25 December. That's when Christians celebrate the birth of Christ. In the middle of December we send a lot of cards to our friends and family, here and abroad. Then we get a big tree and decorate it with lights and other things. On Christma Day, we give each other presents. We have one enormous meal with turkey, and after that, we have Christmas pudding.

Well, here I am in Peru on our South American tour. We got to Lima five days ago. We had a good journey. It took three days by bus, but we saw a lot of things on the way. We didn't do much for the first two days, as a couple of the other guys were ill. We spent most of the time on the beach. (They are OK now!)

On Wednesday, we came up to the mountains, and yesterday we went to the old Inca city of Machu Picchu and did some sightseeing. It was fantastic! We didn't have a lot of time there, but we saw everything and I took a lot of photos.

questions about it.

In the second century BC, the Greek historian Antipater wrote a list of the seven greatest wonders of the ancient world; of these, only the Great Pyramid has survived. Sometimes however, civilizations can be rediscovered - and this is what happened when Borobudur, often called the eighth wonder of the world, was found again in the jungles of Java, south - east Asia.

It was in 1814 that Thomas Raffles became Governor of the island of Java. Unlike many other Europeans, he was interested in the history of the country and spent his time collecting as much information as he could.

In 1815, Thomas Raffles set off with a small party to see what he could find. They traveled for many weeks, and finally arrived at the site of Borobudur. Raffles was astonished by what he found. In front of him, almost covered by the plants and tall trees of the jungle, was one of the most magnificent buildings he had ever seen.

The pyramid of Khufu (Cheops in Greek) is the (14.6), oldest and only true surviving member of the Seven Wonders of the (14.7)World. It was built in the (14.8)title for over 4400 years until (14.10)when the Eiffel Tower was built. The base area of Khufu's (14.11) is equal in size to that of six big-city blocks. Most of the chiseled (14.12) used to build this pyramid are as big as small pickup (14.13) The rugged exterior we see today on Pharaoh Khufus (14.11) was originally covered by a beautiful smooth limestone surfacing. Khufu's (14.15) has three burial chambers - the (14.16)(where he was put to rest), the (14.17) (called 'Queens Chamber) and the (14.18) (carved out of the solid rock below the pyramid). Many current printed sources state that the (14.19) of Khufu required 100,000 slaves and took 20 years to complete. Those figures are derived from writings of the 5th century BC Greek (14.20) Herodotus. He wasn't qualified to give those numbers because he lived 2,00)) years after Khufu's pyramid was built and he didn't have the benefit of modern archeological knowledge.
